DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Independent claim 10 recites at line 3 that the substrate comprises "first regions" (in the plural). Line 5 discusses removing silicon "only in the first region" (in the singular). Claims 11, 12, and 13 also refer to "the" first region. The claim language presumably describes a substrate having a plurality of "first regions," where, for example as in claim 11, all of the first regions would be implanted with p-type dopant. But one cannot determine whether the claim requires all such regions to have selectively removed silicon (as in claim 1). Perhaps "the first region" references all first regions collectively. But one could possibly read the phrase "the first region" as referring to only one of a plurality of first regions. So the claim language is unclear.

Yeo et al. and Fitzgerald address FETs having silicon overlying SiGe. The other two references are the parent of this case, and a co-pending case having the same inventor.
